Rebuilding Lives of the Hungry and Homeless

For over 40 years, Pathways of Hope has been providing food, transitional living and support and prevention services to the hungry, homeless and marginalized through assistance of local congregations, volunteers, businesses and grants from foundations and government agencies.

...we want to help families like Julia's

Julia was pregnant when her family became homeless. She sought help at a transitional housing program in Orange County. But this program didn't accept adult males, so her partner, Juan, had to live in the family's car. He parked as close as he could to the shelter each day and night so that he could be near his family, and he spent each night sleeping in their car.

Julia and Juan are committed partners who provide support for each other and work together to care for their family, and it was difficult for the two of them to have to live apart during this time. But where could they go to escape homelessness and stay together

Then the family found Pathways of Hope, where their entire family was able to stay together. Pathways believes that families are better able to overcome the crisis and trauma of homelessness when they are able to stay together as one unit.

Soon, the whole family moved into Hope's Corner, Pathways' transitional housing program. Julia worked hard applying for new employment and she secured a great new job in just one month!

Julia and her family continue to work closely with their case manager, and they are excited to be on a pathway to hope and financial independence.

Last year they provided housing services to more than 500 families and individuals!

Last year they served more than 200,00 meals to families and individuals in need!

families like Noemi's

With the help of the HUB of Hope, Noemi can provide more nutritious meals for her young children. Pathways of Hope's Client Choice model empowers her to select the food that best fits her family's needs.
